With special gratitude

First and foremost, I would like to express my deepest gratitude to the Universidad Autónoma de Aguascalientes and its extraordinary team of professionals for their trust in this special project, the third book project I am honored to work with them. I am especially grateful to Martha Esparza Ramírez, for her unconditional support and commitment, and to Genaro Ruiz Flores González, as well as Ana Belina Escobar Martínez and Rubén Rodríguez Álvarez for their limitless patience and hard work. Elsa Gabriela Ruiz Guillén and María Elena Ortiz García: I will be forever grateful for their solidarity, collegiality, and friendship since that day when we met for the first time in Aguascalientes.

I would like to express my gratitude to The University of Texas at Austin (UT Austin), the Department of Sociology and the College of Liberal Arts in particular, for the institutional support, through the C.B. Smith Sr. Centennial Chair # 1 in US-Mexico Relations endowment. I am especially grateful to Christen Smith who was Director of the Center for Women's and Gender Studies during the early stages of this project; we are grateful for her enthusiastic encouragement and support at that moment when all contributors and I were starting to imagine this anthology. Thank you, dear Christen, for this and for all your priceless support throughout the years at UT Austin.

My deepest gratitude also goes to each one of the contributors of this anthology and all the people who worked incredibly hard in the preparation and organization of all their texts. María Fernanda Veloz Salas: thank you for your hard work and commitment while working on the first version of the translation of the texts originally written in English, and various tasks involved in the process. Vanessa López: my gratitude goes to you as well for looking closely at the documents in English and your tireless professional copyediting services. Katherin Patricia Tairo-Quispe: thank you for your dedication, commitment, and hard work as a copyeditor of the Spanish texts and for your hard work on multiple time-consuming tasks as we worked together to prepare the volume for production. Marcela Beltrán Bravo: thank you for your professional guidance and support while double checking translation of specific concepts that required special attention. Lydia Cordero Cabrera: thank you de corazón for your invaluable friendship and for your support as we revised documents in Spanish. Yerid López Barrera: thank you for being there when we needed assistance with some of the feminist terminology in Spanish. Adriana Quiroga: thank you huge for being there and working diligently, unexpectedly and last minute, with the translation of texts. Caitlin Sulley: thank you for your supportive friendship and professional guidance, and for revising texts in English.

Brianna Pippens: our special gratitude again and again for your commitment and dedication to this project, and for your gifted talent and sensibility.

Alison Kafer, Sharmila Rudrappa, and Christine Williams: my deepest gratitude for your priceless professional support of many years at UT Austin, and while working on this project, in different ways and at different stages. Jorge Fontdevila: my deepest gratitude for your supportive friendship, and for your professional solidarity whenever I needed help while working on this anthology.

And to the teachers of my heart: Venerable Kirti Tsenshab Rinpoche and Lama Thubten Zopa Rinpoche, I offer the effort, energy, and commitment that helped me give life to this project. May this book be endlessly beneficial to others.
